Foreword . . .

The theme which we have chosen for the annual this year is the "Modern War Plane." Just as these planes rise to combat the enemy so we fight to overcome the various difficulties and problems of school life. Just as the planes that do battle try every twist, turn, and dive to overcome the enemy so must we use every means at our disposal to make good our obligations. Some planes will win and unfortunately, as we know, some must fail. The same is true in life, some are successful and some must fail. We trust and hope that in our class of '42 there will be no failures and many successes. But, whatever the outcome, may you in later years in looking over this book recall the enjoyable hours spent at Lee and gain new hope and inspiration for the future.

The Classes

THE CLASS OF '42

THE CLASS OF '42 with few exceptions entered the halls of Lee High School from the grammar school in the year 1937. The newness and bigness of it all greatly impressed us and, indeed, gave us a little fear of what was to come. We had all the perplexities that a freshman group can possibly have. We had both embarrassments and failures but, at length, we became accustomed to our new surroundings, and with a feeling of pride passed on to the Sophomore Class.

We returned the next year with all the usual assurance of sophomores, thinking as sophomores will, that we knew all there was to know. Before the year was over, however, we met some unforeseen obstacles which caused us to lose some of our pride, and we advanced rather timidly into the Junior Class.

When we became full-fledged Juniors we began to take on a little dignity and reserve, imitating as far as possible, the seniors. We took part in more important discussions and meetings, and even took a small part in some of the senior activities; we had a taste of what the senior year was really to be like.

Then at long last in the fall of '41 we became Seniors. We were, indeed, proud, and conscious of our dignified position. We now began to realize, also, that we had formed ties, and made friends from whom it would be hard to part. As we paused for a moment at the beginning of the year and looked back over our previous years of fun and progress, we felt a real sadness. But sentiment was soon forgotten and we settled down to work, for we, as seniors knew that at the completion of the year we would be leaving to go out into a world in which there is a great crisis, the greatest ever known to mankind. It was necessary for us to realize, that this should be the busiest Senior Class ever to attend Lee, in that, we would have to accomplish so much to better prepare us for the emergency which must be met.

We chose for our motto "Regard the past, look at the present, look forward to the future," and for our colors, red, white, and blue, very appropriate at this time.

We knew the difficult task that lay before us and worked hard to gain our goal. Some pleasant events of the year were the senior play and the senior dance, which served to break the monotony of school work and give much needed rest and pleasure.

We know that high school is not the end of education, but that in the years to come we must work hard to succeed, just as we have done while members of the Class of '42.

SCENES FROM "THE BLACK FLAMINGO"

CURTAIN CALLS FOR "THE BLACK FLAMINGO"

MAGNIFICENTLY executed in every department, Sam Janney's romantic melodrama, "The Black Flamingo," was presented as the Senior Class play on March 27 and 28. Audiences at both performances were victims of chills and heart-warming sensations as the patter of rain-drops, the crash of thunder, and the clatter of horses' hooves set the mood for this drama of mystery and intrigue. Strikingly presented against a setting designed, built, and painted by students of the school, the stage of Lee auditorium was completely transformed into the interior of the dreaded inn of The Black Flamingo in the era of the French Revolution. Before this realistic background the play was so vividly enacted that long afterward, memories of the well-chosen cast will haunt the walls of Lee auditorium with the ghosts of Queen Elizabeth, Lord Essex, Peter Standish, and Mrs. Bennett of productions of years past.

Especially fine was Bobby Culpepper as Viscount de Boizinois, better known as Popo, the simpering, twittering court dandy. His interpretation of this rôle climaxed his excellent work as Mr. Collins in "Pride and Prejudice" and in "What A Life," presented by the dramatic clubs as their fall production.

One of the most difficult rôles of the play was portrayed by Donald Keith as the innkeeper, Felipe Bodier. In this part of the crafty, plotting, shrewd old man, Donald showed a thorough understanding and conception of the rôle.

Displaying poise, dignity and dynamic sureness, contrasted with his rôle of the boisterous bully in "What A Life," John Riddle as Cagliostro, stood out with his fine characterization. In the earlier scenes the pious solemnity of the priest proceeded naturally and effectively to the part of an assured magician and man of the world.

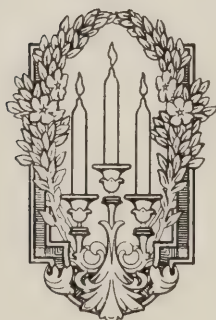

Meade Jones, as Diana de Lussac, lent delicacy and grace to the rôle of faithful daughter and sister. She gave to the play a touch of femininity and romance that set in relief the darker elements of the plot. In the hypnotism scene of the second act she displayed a keen sense of dramatic value and stage presence that is not often surpassed by an amateur.

As Clotilde, Betty Ott delighted the audiences in the part of the flirtatious country maid who fell victim to the charms of Monsieur Popo.

Others in the cast who appeared to an advantage in their parts were: Gladys McManaway in the rôle of Madam Bodier; Paul Clem as the lover and musician, Trigaud; Virgil Gore as Eugene de Lussac, who played well the anxious and disturbed nobleman, Charlotte de Lussac as interpreted by Hazel Harris characterized the fragility and daintiness of the young women of the period; Jack Null played effectively the son of de Lussac; William Cale played with dash and verve the boisterous but cowardly Bourien; the violent revolutionary was stirringly portrayed by Carl Simmons, a Junior; and Erman Mays as Bossange made the most of a small rôle. To him also as stage manager was due a large amount of credit for the superior set.

One of the outstanding features of the production was the excellent work done by members of the technical staff. Betty Ruff as sound technician was responsible not only for the many off-stage noises, but she also assisted with many other details in the production of the play. Special mention should be made of the work of Ralph Cole, Audrey Fauver, Martha Rodrigues, Jean Bickle, Rose Mary McCarrick, Anne Stewart Pitcher, and George Kyle who supervised various committees and created a smooth working production staff. The entire production staff deserves equal praise with that of the cast.

"The Black Flamingo" was directed by Mr. Cohron, whose superior ability in coördinating all the activities of play-production and stage-craft has never failed to inspire a hit.

VALEDICTORY

BETTY RUFF

TONIGHT we have tried to take stock of what we have in America in contrast to what exists in countries without freedom. If we could realize the completeness with which freedom or the lack of it will affect every individual, our efforts would be all out for victory. In what ways can we help insure our freedom? We can obtain an intelligent knowledge of affairs and an understanding of what is taking place. We can help build home morale, be tolerant and sacrifice cheerfully. All of these combined will lead toward building a personal morale that is invincible.

Morale doesn't just happen. It must grow through a willingness to face facts and live and act accordingly. Looking at ugly facts, takes courage and resolution. Facing realities necessitates listening to news broadcasts, and reading war news instead of only the society or sports pages. Do we have a right to criticize others if we don't really know what is going on and why? Knowledge is essential if we are to understand for what we are fighting. Dr. Studebaker, the United States Commissioner of Education, has said, "Enlightened free people know how to fight and work, and die, better than doped and duped Hitler youth, once they see clearly what they are fighting for."

Our forefathers at Valley Forge succeeded in winning over tremendous odds. They had morale which they got from an absolute knowledge and understanding of what was at stake. They got it from a faith in God and in their righteous purposes. Understanding and spiritual fortitude are our individual responsibilities. If we have deep personal convictions, we too, will be able to procure the final victory.

There are numerous tangible things which we can all do to build morale on the home front. Buying war stamps, taking defense courses, collecting necessities for defense, knitting, etc., are all important, but there is more to home morale than this. There must be teamwork in the homes, there must be homes where one finds real friendliness and joy of living, not just people living under the same roof. There must be unselfishness, neighborliness and tolerance. A spirit of real togetherness knocks down all the petty cliques and barriers. Shouldn't we build a community where service and not position or possessions is the rule? How can we hope to build up a strong democratic America unless each of us learns to respect the rights and personalities of others?

We all believe in the doctrine of tolerance, but do we practice it? There is the tendency to look down on people of other nations, but why? Our ancestors were all immigrants. Did you know that nine out of the fifty-five men who wrote our constitution were naturalized Americans? Some of our most famous men have been foreign born. For example, Samuel Morse was Scotch Irish, Michael Pupin was a Yugoslav, Thomas Edison was a Scotch Netherlander, Knudson is a Norwegian, and there are countless others. An American is one who has our ideal of freedom, regardless of where he might have been born. Our president said, "Farmers, workers, business men, professional men, artists and clerks, they are the United States of America." Yes, we are the United States of America and in these times particularly we must live our democracy, not just talk it.

Do we each do our part, or do we leave it to the leaders and then criticize when they make mistakes? It's everybody together for America, not everybody for himself. There is no morale without unity of purpose and effort. "Team work," said Knute Rockne, "is a combination of self-sacrifice, brains and sweat."

Either we must sacrifice our personal selfishness and wants, or we must sacrifice the nation. We are asked to do without many things, yet how can we dare call it sacrifice when Europeans are giving their homes, their families, their lives, everything for the sake of regaining freedom? How can we call it sacrifice when the materials we would use to meet our petty wants are serving to help our soldiers protect our liberty and democracy? Can we grumble about waiting in ration lines, getting less and slower service, cutting down and doing without, when there are boys dying for you and me?

America has been invaded. The biggest invaders are fear, hate, and greed. Class of '42 and friends, let's conquer the enemy within ourselves. Let's fight against softness, laziness, extravagance, materialism and all allies of the Fifth Column. We don't have to wait for a uniform. We're in the army now. It is our task to make this country we love, one ALL AMERICAN TEAM.

SALUTATORY

JEAN BICKLE

WE have the privilege of assembling here tonight because we live in America, and we are glad that we can welcome you to participate with us in our class night exercises. Yesterday you were present at our baccalaureate sermon where people of different creeds voluntarily gathered to hear the minister deliver his message to us. His sermon had not been censored; no agent stood ready to interrupt him if he did not agree with every governmental policy. He spoke freely, not fearing that he would be punished later for the opinions he had expressed.

You went leisurely from church confident that your home had not been molested nor your possessions searched nor destroyed. You enjoyed an appetizing dinner, for rationing goes only far enough to protect all the people, not to deprive some of everything and to give all to others as Hitler and his associates have done. Here blankets have not been snatched from freezing women nor food from starving children. You spent the afternoon in the satisfying companionship of your neighbors and friends, expressing without fear your honest opinions of government officials and their actions. You had no thought of future punishment when you talked freely and frankly on your telephone.

Perhaps, you listened to the radio, to programs censored only to protect you, not to restrict you. You slept peacefully last night, without dreading every moment that a member of your family might be summoned and taken away, never to return. Tomorrow before you leave home to work at the vocation you have chosen, you will read in the papers an uncensored account of tonight's program, and tomorrow night you will see us, the class of 1942, receive our diplomas, signifying that we have learned not only impartial facts but attitudes and ideals, unbiased in respect to politics, race, beliefs and religion.

Our text books have not been burned and we have not been forbidden to speak our own language. Young people of all races and creeds have impartially shared the honors, joys and heartaches of high school students.

But as we do such everyday things, do we realize that these commonplace experiences really constitute true democracy? Tonight we would have you feel with us the personal responsibility for making it an enduring blessing and guarding it for those who come after us. In our program we wish to show you contrasts between what we enjoy in America and what those who are living under the oppression of dictators have to endure. It must not happen here.

Organizations

THE SCHOOL, in order to provide training for students who are talented along lines not provided for in our regular academic courses, has formed many organizations. These organizations include dramatics, literary work, music, knitting, and art. Through these, the students gain enjoyment, knowledge, and experience which will benefit them for life after graduation. The students now feel that these extra-curricula activities are most essential to their school-life.

This section of the Annual is hereby dedicated to these organizations and their members.

Second Row—Louise Clemmer, Conrad Lawrence, Grady Erwin, Glenn Campbell, Blair Spillman, Frankie Cacciapaglia, Emory Topping, Martha Swink

The RECORD Club was organized for two purposes: first, editing and publishing the school magazine which contains stories and articles written by members of the student body, and second, planning, editing, and publishing the Annual. The club provides a means for all interested in any phase of magazine or yearbook publication to learn more about it, and due to the small number of members, each can have good experience in every phase of the work.

The Senior Dramatic Club holds an important place among the various clubs of the school. Since the club's organization in the fall of 1937, each year has seen a marked improvement in its productions. The two plays presented this year, the comedy, "What a Life," and the mystery, "The Black Flamingo" revealed the ability of the group to interpret plays of striking differences in type. This year the sets were particularly noteworthy, the building of which was under the direction of Mr. Cohron.

Because of the excellent esprit de corps of backstage workers, actors, and director, this year has added two more marvelous productions to Lee High's record.

Secretary-Treasurer.....PHYLLIS NULL
Adviser.....MISS ELIZABETH WHITELAW

Under the leadership of Miss Whitelaw, this club has proved more than successful this year. Much time has been given to the study, discussion, and practice of elementary stage technique. Two plays have been presented in Assembly—"The Diabolical Circle"—a romance of Puritan life, and "Grandma Pulls the String"—a modern comedy. Several members of the club had roles in each of the school's public plays, while others did good work on the production staffs. We are all looking forward to other good productions next year.

In order to give the boys at Lee a chance to discover, use, and develop their singing voices the Boys' Chorus was organized several years ago. Among the various activities and purposes of the club are, to develop deep appreciation for good music, and to recognize the abilities and efforts of others; also to study good music by good composers, and to blend voices in harmony for mixed chorus singing. To create the means for better use of leisure time for both the present and future years.

This group also tries to bring pleasure to the boys through association with each other and participation in group singing. Among the various programs presented by the club throughout the year are: the Christmas Program, Spring Concert, and the Commencement Program. Assembly programs are also given from time to time by the club.

The Girl Reserves is an organized club of girls. The purpose of the club is to be a friend to all. Each year the club helps the Red Cross with their annual drive, helps with the selling of Tuberculosis seals and bangles, and also helps in the drive for the Infantile Paralysis fund. At Thanksgiving and Christmas, the club gives a basket to some unfortunate family in town. For entertainment the Girl Reserves always sponsors, at least, one dance during the year. Mrs. C. P. Hollis is the present adviser of the club and has served in this capacity for fifteen years. The Girl Reserves has a code, motto, and hymn, the latter being "Follow the Gleam." The club meets once every other week and a supper meeting is planned once a month.

The activities of the Debating Society for this year have been varied. The National High School topic for debate for 1941-1942 is "Resolved: That every able-bodied male citizen in the United States should be required to have one year of full time military training before attaining the present draft age."

Several debates and round table discussions were given for Civics classes and homeroom programs. Debates were also held with other schools having teams in this district. The Club has always entered the State Contests held by the State Literary and Athletic League on May 8 and 9 at Charlottesville and intends to do so again this year.

RESUMÉ OF FOOTBALL SEASON—1942

Coach Charles E. "Red" Hern built Lee's team around five veterans, namely: Adolph Null, Jack Null, Billy May, Earl Taylor, and Kenneth Houser. There were about forty other lads all trying to win a position on the team. Adolph Null, reelected captain, headed the team through the most successful season, since 1938.

Lee's high-spirited gridmen journeyed to Hot Springs to play the opening game of the seven-game schedule. On the kickoff Adolph Null ran the ball back 47 yards and after two more plays, Glenn Campbell smashed through the center to break the ice. After that it was Lee all the way, scoring almost at will and the final count stood, Lee 25, Hot Springs 0.

Again, Lee hit the road to play Covington, but a little shaky this time for there had been an accident the night before the game and four men had to be left behind. Although handicapped as they were, the Leemen played a hard-fought game all the way. The responsibility rested on the shoulders of Adolph Null and Allen Pfeiffer who did their utmost to make the Blue and White fly high but they had to submit to a 9-0 defeat.

With everything ship-shape now, Front Royal met the Leemen on the latter's home field. It was a close game all the way, but in the closing minutes of the third quarter Front Royal pulled an unexpected lateral and raced to victory. Lee made a desperate attempt to even the score but when the whistle blew Lee had lost 7 to 0.

Handing Lee the biggest defeat of the year was Lexington, who displayed one of the strongest teams Lee had to meet. Lee could find no way to stop the "Scarlet Hurricane" which ran over them to the tune of 40 to 0.

Returning to their home field again, the Leemen gave the spectators a real treat, running over the Luray Eleven 31 to 0. The whole back field ran wild with each of the four starting back field men of Lee scoring touchdowns. This game made Lee High's team the best in three years.

History was recorded in heavy black print, when on October 31st, Lee played her most brilliant game in seven years—defeating the Harrisonburg "Blue Streaks." We wanted this game and we gave everything we had to win. Allen Pfeiffer, Lee's safety man, intercepted a "Blue Streak" pass and galloped unmolested sixty-five yards down the side-line to score a touchdown. During the last minutes of play Harrisonburg had the ball on Lee's two-yard, pulling every play they knew for nine downs, but they were unable to gain an inch against Lee's forward wall. So it was Lee's "Fighting Leemen" who had pulled the impossible, and tripped their traditional rivals.

Although the memorable game was now over, the Leemen did not lose their heads when they met Waynesboro in their last contest of the year. It was a hard-fought battle with both teams threatening to score on several occasions, but the Leemen battled their much heavier opponents to a 0-0 deadlock.

RESUMÉ OF INDIVIDUAL PLAYERS

CAPTAIN

Adolph had the great honor of leading the Leemen for the second year and he proved his ability as an ideal leader as well as a great performer in every game. His expert running, accurate passing, and deadly tackling were valuable assets to the success of the team. Adolph was the true model of clean sportsmanship and will be long remembered as one of Lee's gridiron "Greatest's."

EARL TAYLOR

BACK

"Buddy's" blocking and backing up of the line was one of the strong points in Lee's team this year. Bud was always in the thickest of battle and will be greatly missed next year as he will leave his old alma mater by graduation.

ALLEN PFEIFFER

BACK

"Cutie" will be best remembered for his sensational run in the Harrisonburg game, but we must not forget that all during the year he was one of Lee's mainstays in every game. We are sorry to say that this is Allen's last year at Lee.

GLENN CAMPBELL

Glenn was the lad who kept Lee out of the danger zone with his long punts. Although this was his first year of wearing the Blue and White colors, he was sorely missed when he was out of the line-up due to injuries. He was a steady performer throughout the year.

KENNETH HOUSER

END

"Speed" was one of the fastest men on the squad and was a great threat to the opposing team's safety man on punts. This was his third year on the team and it will be hard to replace him when he graduates this year.

FORREST PETERS

TACKLE

Peters played steady ball all season and got more than his share of tackles. Better yet, he will be back next year to perform for the "Blue and White."

BILLY MAY

CENTER

After performing one year at tackle "Gertie" was shifted to center and there he played his same steady brand of ball. "Gertie" was always found where the battle was toughest and the pile-ups were the highest. We are sorry to say this is his last year at Lee.

RUDOLPH SMITH

GUARD

Although "Rock" was the smallest lineman on the Lee squad, he had plenty of fight. As "Rock" is a freshman, much is expected of him in future years on the gridiron at Lee.

NEWELL BOSSERMAN

GUARD

"Red," Smith's running mate, paved the way for his teammates by his deadly blocking. He was also a steady defensive player. This was his first year on the varsity squad, and his last, as he graduates this June. He will be hard to replace.

JIM FAIDLEY
TACKLE

Another one of those much heard of freshmen is "Big Jim" Faidley. It is with regret that we learn that Jim has dropped from school.

HOWARD HAHN
END

Howard's opponents found it hard to get around his end as he was always on the job. He will be sorely missed, for he, too, bids farewell to the gridiron of "Dear Old Lee."

JOHN MARSHALL RIDDLE
BACK

Known to most of his fellow students as "Ted," he was just as great a back on the football team as he is outstanding in his other activities. Ted was always ready to perform and we are sorry to see him go.

JIMMY GRAHAM

After sticking it out for one season Jimmy returned the next, and worked hard to earn a position. He improved more than any other player on the team but he also is another senior who will leave us in June.

CAPTAIN-ELECT

"Vic" will return next year to the "Blue and White" grid-ders. Although he was out part of the time this season with a shoulder injury, he will be ready for action next September.

ARTHUR ANDERSON
MANAGER

The manager of this year's team was Arthur Anderson, better known as "A.P.," and his two faithful assistants were "Hank" Greenstone and Claybrook Elder. These boys deserve much credit for their splendid work which was performed in a cheerful and willing manner. They were always handy and played a large part in the life of the team.

GEORGE GORSLINE
TACKLE

Although George was a new boy at Lee this year he saw plenty of action and played enough to earn his letter. He is another senior who is slated to leave school in June.

BILLY THORNTON
GUARD

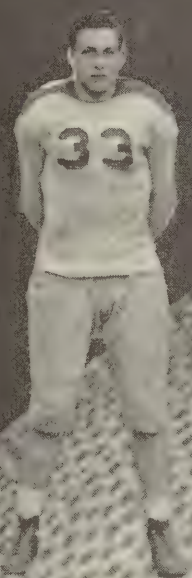

Billy is listed as one of the few to return next year to fill up the hole in the line left by many graduating seniors. He showed his ability on both the offense and defense this year and should add a star to the letter he won this season.

BILLY OBENSCHAIN
END

Bill was well-fitted for an end position by his height. He proved his worth more than once and earned his letter in his last year at Lee.

END

Up to this year little Jackie had been playing brilliant ball at end but this year he was shifted into the backfield on various occasions, where he performed with the greatest of ease. His spirit and undying courage in the Lee line-up will be missed as this is his last year at Lee.

ON THE HARDWOOD AT LEE—1942

In midwinter about fifteen boys answered the call for that fast and most skillful game of basketball. The fairly successful team was built around Jack Null, Jack Painter and Howard Hahn, all lettermen. Jack Null was elected captain at the end of last year and he did an excellent job of leading the Blue and White through thick and thin.

It looked as if it would be a highly successful season when the Lee High cagemen came out on opening night to down the mighty Alumni Five. Inaccuracy on the part of the older team gave Lee a chance to get an early lead and hold it to the final whistle for a 32-24 victory.

To start the regular season off, Lee played Harrisonburg on the home court. It was a hard fought game but the Leemen could not keep up with the sharp shooting Blue Streaks and they lost this one 54 to 27. Newlen led his team with a total of 12 points.

Exams and an open date gave Lee plenty of time to get ready for Waynesboro. The game was a close one with the Little Giants holding a slim margin that Coach Hern's protégés were unable to overcome. The game ended with Lee on the short end of a 35-32 score. Hahn was high point man for Lee with six points.

Back home again and to give Culpeper an unexpected surprise, the local hardwooders trimmed that team 45-32. It was Hahn again leading the way with fourteen, and Newlen was right behind him with ten.

Still at home and continuing their winning streak Lee defeated an inferior Covington team 48-37. Jack Painter took the honors this time dropping in six field goals for a total of twelve points.

Probably, the most unexpected defeat of the season came when Clifton Forge held the Leemen to a 20-15 margin in a game that was unusually slow. Although the team was making their shots they couldn't get enough to win.

It was rumored that Lexington was out to cop the district title because they were beating everyone with such high margins. The Leemen sought to change this. The first half of the game looked dark for Lee with only one point being scored against thirteen for their opponents. In the second half, however, Lee rallied, getting point for point, but it was too late and they bowed to the Scarlet Hurricane 25-13.

On the return engagement with Harrisonburg Lee put up a gallant fight to try to overcome their oldest and deadliest rivals. Captain Null, Pfeiffer, and Culpeper led the way for the Leemen with four points each. However, the Blue Streaks taking advantage of an early lead held it for a 25-20 win.

In the second encounter with Covington it was hoped that the Blue and White would win, but the Leemen let up that night and could not overcome an early lead launched by the Cougars. May and Painter with five talleys each were high scorers for the Leemen.

It seemed that Lee always played its best game on the local hardwood. This fact held true when the home team went out to meet the Little Giants in one of the hardest fought games of the season. Taking the offensive from the beginning and with Jack Painter hitting the net for eight points the team kept several steps ahead of Waynesboro and marked up a 32-27 triumph.

What could have been a highly successful game turned out to be a dud. Culpeper was trailing until the last few minutes of play when former Lee athlete Claude Bradley scored three field goals to eke out a 27-24 win. Painter and Null shared high point honors with six each.

Clifton Forge was, no doubt, much surprised by the one-sided defeat handed them by the Lee Quintet. With Pfeiffer scoring fifteen the Leemen turned loose the most powerful blitzkrieg of the year to walk off the floor with a 43-19 victory.

A 20-19 score against Lexington put Lee right behind the highly favored Lexington team at the half. It looked as if the Staunton boys might get a win but the Scarlet Hurricane let loose a hot offensive in the last half that was too much for the local cagemen and they went down fighting 48-33. Captain Null led his team with seventeen points.

Thus, Lee ended the season with a record of five wins against eight defeats.

RESUMÉ OF INDIVIDUAL PLAYERS

JACK PAINTER FORWARD CAPTAIN-ELECT

Jack has had two years of varsity basketball and will be back to lead his team as captain next year. He played a steady, consistently good brand of ball throughout the season and covered the floor in a manner that any coach would appreciate. Luck to you and your team, Captain Jack.

HOWARD HAHN CENTER

Howard was the tallest man on Lee's team. He was a fine defensive center and was always counted on as a scoring threat. We are sorry to see you leave, Howard, and know that you will be greatly missed.

BILLY MAY GUARD

"Gerty" had never played basketball at all until this year, but he showed us in a short while that he could play. He played fine ball every minute he was in the game and was always scrapping. We are sorry to part with you, "Gerty," but wish you all the luck in the world.

BOBBY CULPEPPER GUARD

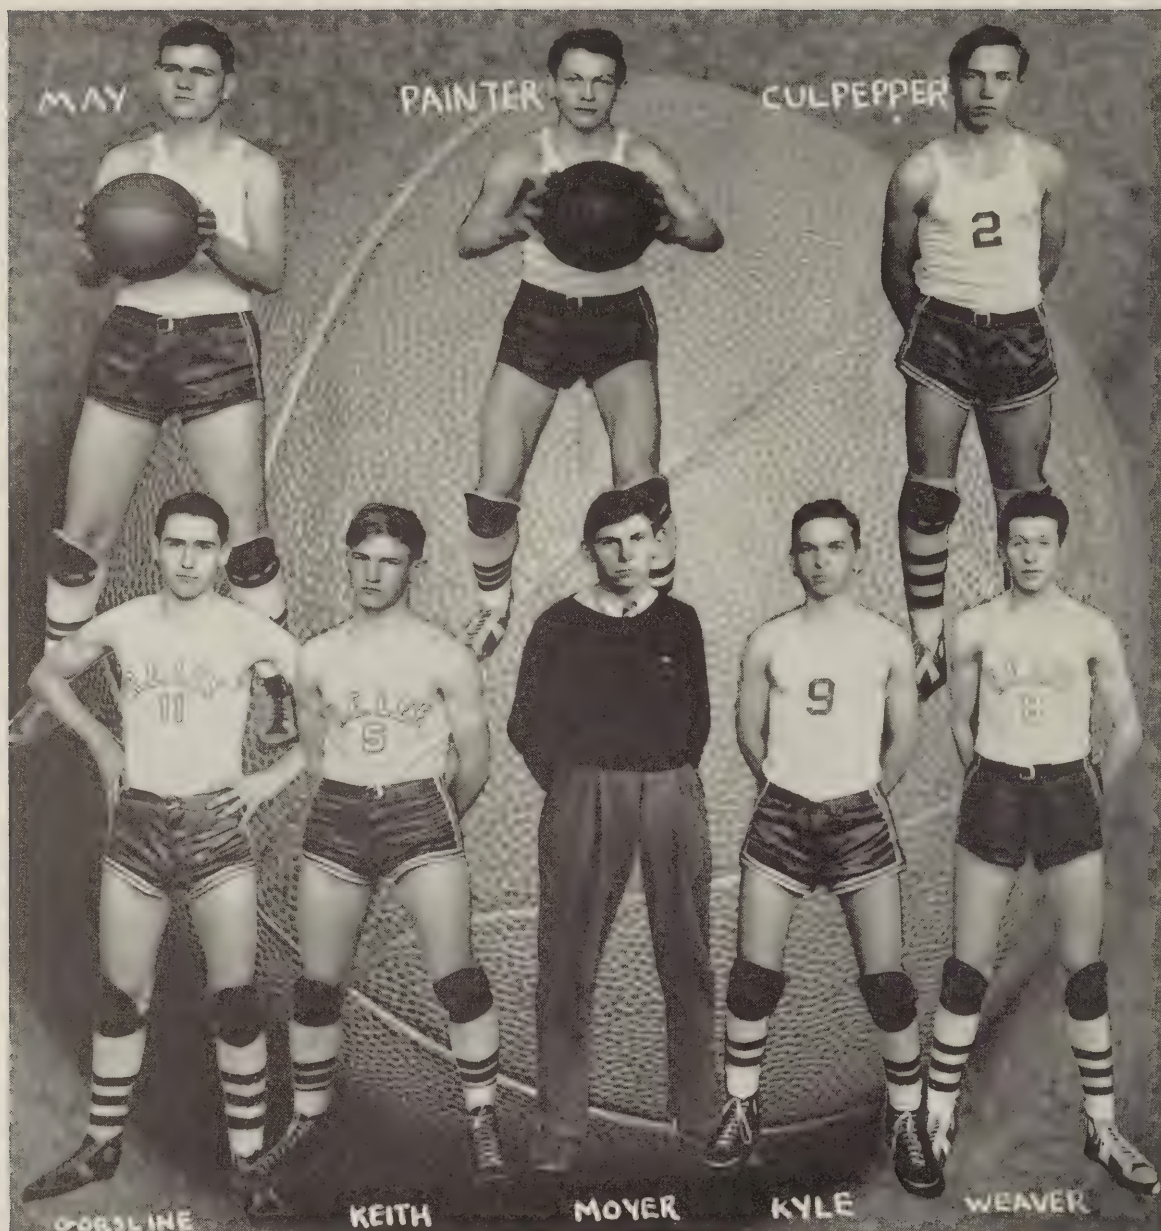

Bobby was one of the best defensive players on the Lee team. His determination and scrappy fight was ever a menace to the opposition. Wherever you go we wish you luck, and we're wondering if we can fill your place.

JACK NULL GUARD CAPTAIN

Jack was liked and looked up to by other members of the team as shown by his election to captain for this year. He was always in there fighting and giving his best. He proved himself a capable leader and will be greatly missed by the team, as he graduates this year.

ALLEN PFEIFFER FORWARD

Every team needs a manager but this year "Cutie" was called upon in mid-season from his position as manager to play at one of the forward positions on the team. Allen proved his worth both as a manager and player. He will not be back next year and we will greatly miss him.

CARLTON NEWLIN
FORWARD

Although Carlton was a substitute on last year's team, this did not discourage him, and he came back to gain a position on the starting five. We are glad you will be back next year and hope you will do as well as you did this year and even better, Carlton.

ARTHUR ANDERSON
FORWARD

"A. P." won his monogram for the first time this year and proved he deserved it. He was always ready to go into the game and always played hard while he was in. He also graduates and we are sure he will be greatly missed.

BOBBY LARNER
CENTER

Bobby showed more improvement than any other player on the team. He was a hard worker and could be used at almost any position. He will not be back next year and we are sure he will be greatly missed.

ANDREW MOYER

"Blubber" took up where Pfeiffer left off and was always ready to help when needed and kept the equipment in perfect shape. He will be manager again next year and we are sure he will turn in his same good job.

CHARLES E. HERN
COACH

Coach Charles E. "Red" Hern was one of the best-liked coaches to be found anywhere and in his two years' stay at Lee he has been respected and honored by everyone who came in contact with him. For the boys who played on his teams it was a pleasure to work for him and each day's practice was looked forward to by them. Through his earnest effort and eagerness to impart his knowledge of the sports he has built one of the strongest football teams at Lee since the fall of '38. In all other sports he has had to start from the beginning and he alone deserves credit for the improvement in the various sports at Lee. Now, "Coach" has been called to leave Lee and give his attention to something greater, "the liberty of the United States," as a physical director in the great and powerful United States Navy. We all regret to see you go, "Coach," and we wish you the best of luck and are ever looking forward to the day when you may return to Lee.

BASEBALL

This year's baseball team was shot to holes by the loss of 1941 graduates and by the loss of several players at mid-term. However, Coach Charles E. "Red" Hern, with the return of three regulars and several dependable reserves from last year's team, succeeded in building a well-balanced team to represent Lee on the diamond. Billy May, who patrolled right field last year, was called to take over the receiving duties while the pitching was well taken care of by Allen Pfeiffer and Carlton Newlin. The infield was built around Jack Null at shortstop, J. B. Weaver at second-base, Jack Painter at third-base and Bobby Larner at the initial sack. Weaver and Null were consistently double-play threats and Painter and Larner each displayed a good branch of ball in his respective position.

Coach's main problem was to develop a new outfield. To solve this problem, he used Newlin or Pfeiffer in one of the outfield positions, when they were not pitching, along with Benny Jones at center field and Houser, Peters, or Earl Painter in the other outer-garden positions. Others making a bid for a position on the team were Penry, Johnson, Glenn, Parkins, Lemmon, and Berry. Jack Parrish, also, rendered valuable services to the team as manager.

The Leemen opened the '42 season by journeying to Waynesboro where they lost a one to nothing heart-breaker to the "Little Giants." Pfeiffer hurled stellar ball for the Leemen while Painter and Null gathered Lee's only two hits of the game.

Lee's next game resulted in a 13 to 9 setback at the hands of Beverley Manor. May and Null led Lee's attack by gathering seven of their team's nine hits.

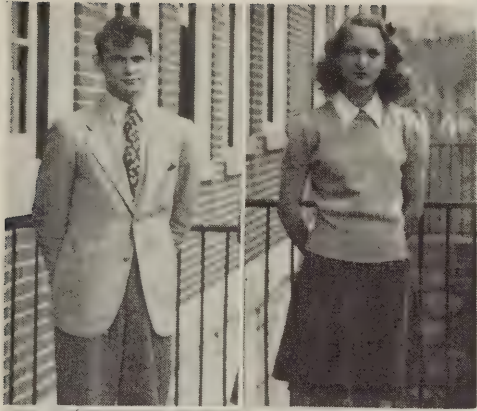

Lee's first victory of the season was a score of 15-11 over Beverley Manor in a return game. Pfeiffer paced his team-mates by fine pitching and his batting at the plate.

With the departure of Coach Hern for the navy, what was expected to be a successful season in America's greatest outdoor sport for the Leemen came to an abrupt close.
